Twenty-one districts have signified their intention of starting courses in manual training, fifteen, courses in domestic science, and five, commercial departments. There are, in all probability, districts that maintained courses last year and that are staring work this fall along industrial lines without having notified the Department. In Washington county the Ellsworth and Cokesburg boards have united in an effort to establish industrial work in their schools, suitable to the mining region in which the villages are located. Ninety per cent of the school population are of foreign parentage and ninety-five per cent of the boys return to the mines upon reaching the age of fourteen. A study of the local conditions at Ellsworth and Cokesburg resulted in the following work being suggested for the schools. Handwork for boys and girls in the first four.grades, cooking, sewing, home nursing, laundering and sanitation for the girls, principle of mining law for the boys in the fifth to eighth grades inclusive, and in addition to the mining law for the boys in the seventh and eighth grades manual training, reading and drawing of simple maps. The principles of mining law, reading and drawing of maps, measuring of rock, areaways and gangways were recommended for the continuation class. This class is open to boys from fourteen to eighteen years of age who are employed in the mines, and provides for one-half day a week for instruction. (It is entirely possible that the...
